

Cameron Grant

Super Conductor Candidate

Cameron Grant began his life-long love of vocal performance with a rejection from high school show choir (Niwot's Evenstar). That humbling moment led Cameron into voice lessons, the study and performance of music in college, as well as roles with the Colorado Opera Festival and the Aspen Opera Theater Center. Discovering that life's luxuries, like food and housing, were more easily attained with a paying gig, Cameron chose a career in law but keeps music as an important part of his routine. He continues to perform locally and has appeared on stage with the Colorado Music Festival at Chautauqua as well as several appearances with the Longmont Symphony Orchestra.

When not practicing law or practicing Symphony Conducting for Dummies, Cameron plays second fiddle to his wife, Erika, as they raise their three boys (young men). Their son Caden is finishing his sophomore year at George Washington, Nicholas graduates from Niwot High School this spring, and Connor will soon finish his freshman year at Niwot.

Cameron is a Board Member of the Longmont Housing Authority and has served with the Longmont United Hospital Foundation, Imagine! Foundation, Longmont Council for the Arts, and the Longmont Community Foundation.

He is thrilled to be supporting the LSO this year and hopes that you will too.
