

Denise Kloster is a Longmont, CO native. She grew up five minutes northeast of town in the “country” where she was taught everything there is to know about the highly competitive world of horse showing. From a young age, she learned the importance of hard work and determination because of her involvement with horses. As Denise grew up, she took interest in her school’s extra curricula’s; she learned to play the French horn for her school’s band, and played various sports, from volleyball to cheerleading. Denise attended Skyline High School, where she became a varsity cheerleader. Through the cheer team, she made many special connections and learned the value of community, which is still very important to her today.

Denise and her husband, Gary (also a Longmont native), met in 1983 while both attending Skyline High School. They’re what you call “high school sweethearts.” Today, they have been married for over 30 years! They have two daughters, Lindsay and Jenna, and in more recent years they have gotten to watch their family grow to include two sons-in-law and five grandkids. Denise’s grandchildren have easily become one of the very most important parts of her life! She values love and family above all else.

Denise has made a successful career as a licensed real estate agent with over 25 years of experience. The amount of heart she uses in each deal is unparalleled; she values integrity and goes above and beyond to meet the needs of each client she has had the privilege to work with.

Denise is overjoyed with the opportunity to become a Super Conductor for the Longmont Symphony Orchestra. She views this opportunity as a way to step outside of her comfort zone in an effort to support the Longmont Symphony Orchestra and meet many new amazing people along the way.
